SIBERIA OPIUM SMUGGLERS AND DOPE NAILED

HAWAII DEFENSES ARE PROVIDED FOR

Customs Men In Raid On Siberia

Make Rich Haul and Arrest Four Of Alleged Smuggling Ring

Delivered to the private office of E. R. Stockable, collector of customs, this morning, and kept there for safe keeping, are one hundred and ten tins of prepared opium, taken from the Pacific Mail steamship Siberia.

Placed under arrest and now in the custody of United States Marshal E. R. Hendry are Maurice Roberts, stevedore; Wan Shaw, Chinese interpreter; Chang Young, Chinese No. 1 stevedore; Tse Kau, Chinese coal passer—all members of the crew of the Siberia.

The arrest of the four men and the confiscation of the big amount of opium are the result of a persistent and relentless search made on that vessel by practically the combined staff of the local customs service.

The opium, which was dragged forth from obscure nooks and hiding-places on the Pacific Mail liner, is estimated to be worth anywhere from $50,000 to $70,000.

It constitutes the biggest haul made by the Federal customs officers at this port in many months.

Concealed way down at the bottom and early this morning. Upon arrival of an air shaft or ventilator, located at the extreme after part of the ship, the customs men, with the assistance of the largest package of stuff from the States revenue cutter Thetis, boarded the vessel as she lay at Alakea wharf. Throughout the evening and during the total of seventy-seven tins. The tins are of one of the best brands put up for sale at Hongkong.

The search of the Siberia was continued further, with the result that a party of customs officers finally ran across another lot, which upon being uncovered showed a total of thirty-three additional tins of the dope. The opium was found last evening.

BAN PLACED ON GRASS HUTS AND PINEAPPLE JUICE AT BOSTON MISSIONARY EXHIBIT

No grass huts, idols or other relics of ancient Hawaiian days and no sale of pineapple juice or other similar products of present days will be allowed in the exhibit to be installed by the Hawaiian Board at the great missionary exposition at Boston, which opens in Mechanics' building on April 24.

This is the decision reached by the local committee in charge. Instead, the exhibit will consist of up-to-date views and other things representing the advancement of the islands along lines of education, religion and commerce.

For the reason that the management of the exposition will not allow the sale of pineapple juice and such refreshments, that part of the Promotion Committee's exhibit at Atlantic City will not form part of the Hawaiian missionary display.

As to the ban on grass huts and grass skirts, Rev. W. R. Olson, secretary of the committee, said this morning: "We have decided that there has been enough misrepresentation of Hawaii, and have therefore thought it best not to display anything that will be subject to misapprehension. Such things as grass huts or idols give an entirely wrong idea of conditions here. We want only those things which will show advancement and progress."

Japan by a Buddhist temple, Luck God, ten-house, etc.; Africa by a Congo hut, devil hut, witch doctor in the open, Juku scene, and the Mohammedan lands by a Turkish mosque, Arab compound, Bedouin tent and Khan, and the industrial side will be combined with the realistic scenes from native life everywhere.

■ The Finance Committee of the 1911 Floral Parade desires to remind those to whom circular letters of appeal was sent for exhibition of funds and who, while intending to respond, have not yet done so, of several points, viz: 1. That the event is rapidly approaching. 2. That not one tenth of the ones addressed have thus far responded, although more than a tenth of funds needed have come in. 3. That, after the first response, the number replying is becoming fewer each day, and there is need to carry out the intention to support the idea of the day, and to do so promptly. 4. The Finance Committee wishes also to add that there is nothing to hinder others than those to whom appeal has been sent from sending in their contributions, such as they would like to make, and they may send check, or pledge for early collection to the Finance Committee Floral Parade, P. O. Box 146 City.

CHINESE CONSUL IN RIGHT AS TO TAX

Commissioner Says Had Authority to Collect If Used Rightly.

LEUNG LEAN FUNG, special Chinese commissioner sent here to investigate the charges against Consul Liang Kwo Yang, this morning made to a reporter for the Bulletin his first public statement of the results of the inquiry. His statement constitutes a denial of the report that, acting on his advice, the consul has been asked to resign by the authorities in Washington.

The commissioner's findings include the fact that the consul had a right to collect the $1.25 tax about which there has been so much controversy, if that tax is later used for the education of Chinese in Hawaii. On the latter point the investigation is still in progress.

The statement was made through the English secretary of the Chinese consulate in the apartments of the commissioner at the Young Hotel.

"I did not advise the Chinese Minister in Washington to have the local consul removed or recalled, as stated in this morning's paper," he said. "I have only been here a few days and am not fully informed of the circumstances which led to the controversy between the consul and the local Chinese."

"I have investigated the official conduct of the Chinese consul here, but am not yet through with it. I would like to investigate the matter thoroughly in order to ascertain the whole truth of the case. After that I will submit my report to the Chinese Minister in Washington for action. I have also investigated and listened to the complaints of the local Chinese, but owing to the approach of the Chinese New Year, I have not completed my investigation. I will, however, continue until I have covered the entire matter."

"Has the local consul been authorized by the Minister in Washington to collect from the Chinese here $1.25 each for educational purposes?" he was asked.

"Well," he said, "if he had collected the money for educational purposes and with their consent, then he has a perfect right to do so. It is customary among the Chinese officials to collect money for that purpose, provided he expended it for that specific purpose. It is not necessary for him to send the money to the Minister in Washington, but if he held back the money which he had collected, he must necessarily use it for that purpose only."

"The consul tells me," the commissioner continued, "that that money is being used for a school building in which the local Chinese youths will receive education."

"Altogether about 599 Chinese residents have been registered. Fifty-three of them are over sixty years of age, and they are exempt from the tax. The total amount of money now in the hands of the consul, after deducting the expenses, according to him, is $466.68. I have no authority to remove the consul. That is the prerogative of the Chinese Minister in Washington. The money, I understand, is being expended for the Mung Lung, on Beretania street."

"The commissioner said in conclusion that he would be present at the reception to be given at the Chinese consulate next Monday, the Chinese New Year's Day. He will remain here for one time, to continue his investigations."

The commissioner is up to date. He had his queue cut, and is considered one of the ablest secretaries in the Chinese legation in Washington. During his stay here he will be the guest of honor at numerous banquets planned by the local Chinese.

BISHOP STREET OAHU STRONGER CONDEMNATION HALTED FOR HOLSTEIN AS SPEAKER

The condemnation proceedings instituted by the Territorial Government in connection with the extension of Bishop street through to Beretania received a temporary set back this morning through a majority decision handed down by the Territorial Supreme Court, Chief Justice Hartwell dissenting from the majority opinion of Justices De Bolt and Perry.

The syllabus of the decision reads: "While the statute permits amendments to pleadings by adding or striking out the name of any party it does not authorize the substitution of a new party for the sole party plaintiff."

The condemnation proceedings were brought by "Marston Campbell, Superintendent of Public Works of the Territory of Hawaii vs. James Steiner" et al.

The Supreme Court holds that "the petition is that of Marston Campbell, superintendent of public works. The effect of the title and of the allegations of the title and of the allegations and not the Territory the party plaintiff."

De Bolt and Perry hold that the demurrer, interposed by Thompson, Clemens and Wilder, should be sustained without prejudice to the right of the Territory to institute further proceedings.

Chief Justice Hartwell, in his dissenting opinion, takes the view that the petition could be amended to cover the defects as to the naming of the party plaintiff.

The Attorney General will institute a new suit at once.

In the United States District Court this morning Rev. John W. Wadman forswore allegiance to the British Crown and promised his faithful and enduring support to the Constitution of the United States and the principles enunciated in that document.

Members of the Oahu delegation supporting H. L. Holstein, of Hawaii, for speaker of the next house declared, yesterday morning that the Hawaii man is practically sure of ten out of the twelve Oahu votes, indicating that he has made a gain of two in the past week. It is said that Frank K. Archer and S. K. Mahoe are now the only ones who cannot be pretty definitely counted on for Holstein.

Mahoe, Archer, A. Q. Marcellino and J. K. Kamanoulu were the four uncertain members of the Oahu delegation. None has yet publicly announced a change of heart, but Holstein men on the Oahu delegation have been assured that both Kamanoulu and Marcellino will vote with the majority. As to Archer and Mahoe, they are silent on the subject, but there is a hope that they will be brought in for a solid delegation when the balloting begins.

The news that Holstein is much stronger than was believed in his own delegation is partly responsible for the increased confidence of his supporters here. There has been little rumormongering in the scrap for the speakership, and the harmony members hope that when the line-up is seen to be against Kellinot, he will gracefully support Holstein and make it unanimous.

WANT A SCHOOL INSTEAD OF PARK

The progressive residents of Palolo Valley proper, meaning all mauka of the car line and within the confines of the valley, will meet shortly for the purpose of inaugurating an improvement club which will deal with things strictly local.

There are 82 children of school age in the valley and the people of that beautiful and fast-growing suburb believe that a school is of much more importance in that district than a public park, which latter has been advocated by the Kaimuki Improvement Club.

Peru is about to begin a revolution. That sounds as if the publicity agent for Peru was breaking into print.

Pearl Harbor Gets Millions

House Committee Favors Larger Appropriation Than Was Expected

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 28.—(Associated Press Cable.) Pearl Harbor will get $2,662,000 out of the appropriation for naval affairs made during this session of Congress, according to a report made today by the House committee on naval affairs.

The naval appropriation bill, amounting to $125,421,536, was reported to the House, with the amount above for Pearl Harbor. Of this amount, $80,000 is to go toward the construction of a hundred-ton floating crane. Fifteen millions are to be used for an increase in the number of the big appropriation favored by the House committee for Pearl Harbor work was received with joy today at the local naval station. It is several hundred thousand more than was expected. The floating crane was asked for last year. It will cost about $125,000, but as it can not be built and delivered in less than two years, further appropriation may be made later on.

RESOLUTION DECLARES NEED OF HAWAII FOR INDUSTRIAL AND AGRICULTURAL SCHOOL

A resolution urging the passage of the Dooliver-Davis bill now pending in Congress, and asking the Delegate to Congress to work for the bill that would give Hawaii the advantage of the most modern type of industrial school, is included in a resolution of the Civic Federation, as follows: "Whereas, The welfare of Hawaii is largely dependent on the development of her agricultural resources and the industries related thereto, and whereas according to the school regulations of the Territory, there is a period between the age when compulsory attendance at school ceases and the age when boys and girls become productive workers in the community. Consequently there is a paramount need of continuation schools of agriculture and industrial type."

Resolved, therefore, That there be established on each of the four islands—Kauai, Oahu, Maui and Hawaii—schools contiguous to important centers of industry that shall give instruction in agriculture, home economics, the trades and industries. This instruction shall be given in fields, kitchens, dining halls and shops, and shall be of such a practical nature as to enable the pupil at the end of the course to take up work in connection with the respective industries at remunerative wages. "Resolved, further, That as the provisions of the Dooliver-Davis Act (S. 8809) now pending in Congress are means and facilities for the establishment and maintenance of schools of this type, that the Delegate be urged to advocate the immediate passage of this Act in whatever form may seem best adapted to the needs of this country at large and Hawaii in particular."
